DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Dallmann et al (5,322,244).

See especially Figure 6. Elements 13 correspond to the claimed elongated members, elements 27 corresponds to the payload component, and element 9 corresponds to the movable payload support. Note, in regard to claim 6, that either the lower floor panel of element 9 or the top of roller structure 8 is considered to read over a “panel being approximately co-planer” with a floor panel.

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Art Unit: 3641

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-21 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-46 of copending Application No. 10/811,771 and over claims 1, 3, 5-17, 19, 21-30, 32, 34-41, and 44-48 of copending Application No. 10/811,529. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they claim substantially the same support and movable elements of a payload movement assembly, with only minor language differences or broader language in the copending applicants which would read over the current claims.

5. The terminal disclaimer filed 2-16-06 was improper and has not been approved because it failed to reference Application 10/811,771, which forms a portion of the double patenting rejection.

6. Applicant's arguments filed 2-16-06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant is incorrect in arguing that elements 13 fail to correspond to the claimed elongated members because elements 13 are disclosed as being in a grid while the elongated members are parallel. It is clear that the grid formed by elements 13 include parallel elements that anticipate the parallel elongated members. The claims do not contain limitations that exclude the perpendicular portions of elements 13 in the grid. In regard to the argument that elements 27 and 9 are not "coupled" together, the Examiner disagrees with this characterization and believes that Applicant is arguing limitations that are in the specification but not in the claims. It seems to be a fair reading of the prior art to say that elements 27 and 9 are frictionally "coupled" together by the disclosed situation of trolley element 27 being held inside transport cart element 9. Similarly, the positioning of rollers 8, which are attached to cart 9, within and in contact with elements 13 anticipated the claimed language of these elements being "engaged".

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
